Cumining am is received a Association.

Governor Aycock returned this morning from a campaign tour through the western part of the State under the direction of the State Democraic Committee and finds his little son suffering from at attack of typhoid fever, so he states he rears he will not be able to fill his engagements with the National Committee for speeches beginning the 24th in West Virginia, New Jersey, New York and other Northern States,

STATE OFFICES CLOSE.

All State offices were closed to-day on account of the State Fair, this being the biggest day of the week. The principal stores were closed for the afternoon. This is Johnston county day at the State Fair, the county of President Horn, and there are fully 5,000 Johnston county people in the fair grounds. The attendance to-day breaks all records, being estimated at 20,000 at the least.

At a convention of North Carolina cotton growers last night, a resolution was passed urging planters to market their cotton as slowly as they can and not sell at all for less than ten cents. The movement for the establishment of bonded cotton warehouses, as inaugurated in Waco, Texas, was endorsed and planters in this State urged to co-operate in their establishment here.

Engineers at Work at the Narrows on the Yadkin.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch, SALISBURY, N. C., October 20 SALISEURY, N. C., October 28-Ine Salisbury Sun on yesterday afternoon ex-posed a scheme which is alleged to have been planned by the Republican leaders of this congressional district to roise a examic sum of money to be used in the gigantic sum of money to be used in the campaign with the hope of electing E. Spencer Flackburn over W. C. Newland, the Democratic nomines. The plan is to exact large contributions from the distillers, wholesale and retail whickly dealers in Solisbury, who in turn are promised favors on the part of Elicabura in the event of Elicabura in the event of his election. While it is known that a large amount of money has been raised, yet the notice is not known, but it is said that it will reach several thousand dollars. It is stated that one subscription amounts to fall the plan it is learned. Has already men with considerable resemblent.

President G. L. Whitney and Secretary, and Treasures F. L. Stephenson, of New York city, of the Whitney Reduction Company, which also has an office in Salledistillers, wholesale and retail while ch also has an edfine in figlisring actives work towards the develop-ing active work towards the develop-ment of the great power of the cataract which has so long been contemplated. ### Electric Lines to Have Equal Privileges at Fort Monroe.

Privileges at Fort Monroe,

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Secretary
Toft to-day decided the long pending controversy between the Hampton Roads Rallway and Electric Company and the Newport News and Old Point Rallway and Electric Company, by granting the former permission to enter the Fort Monton artillery reservation. The Secretary's order provides that the two trilley roads must place their tracks within fifteen feet of centers, where they cross the tracks of the Chesapedke and Ohio Rallway and folial to append of thirty days' time for hoth companies to enter into arrangements for the necessary crossings and switches and the joint use of tracks in the reservation.

Boston Being Edified.

The spectacle of a negro pugilist making the race for mayor of Boston and expecting "the support of the sporting fra-trinlity in exchange for the excellent sport he has provided for them in the past," is very edifying-in Massachuseits.

A Real Miser.

A man in Missouri who swallowed a 5-cent place back in the days when sliver coin of that denomination were some times seen, has just coughed it up. We all of us have had experience with individuals who required a very long time to cough up very small amounts.—Boston Transcript,

Ambassador Choate first presented Rear-Admiral Jewell, commanding the European squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, and his staff; Captain Colby, tic fleet, and his staff; Captain Colby, of the cruiser Olympia, and Lieutenants William C. Waits and Charles T. Jewell aides on the admiral, who were accompanied by Secretary White and Captain Charles II, Stockton, the naval attache of the American embassy. Then, with an informal, "Well, let's have lunch," the King, wearing an admiral's uniform, led the way to the dining-room, where eighteen persons sat down, mostly memeighteen persons sat down, mostly mem-bers of the household, with Captain Prince Louis, of Battenberg, director of naval intelligence: Admiral Lord Walter naval intelligence; Admiral Lord Walter Kerr, first sea lord of the admirally, and Sir Thomas Lipton. Ambassador Choate was on the King's right and Admiral Jewell on his left.

The King, as usuals with American guests, demanded their latest stories and chatted most informally until near the end of the luncheon, when he rose and proposed the health of President Roose-vell, the American navy and the officers velt, the American navy and the officers of the visiting squadron. No formal reof the visiting squadron. No formal reply was made, but Admiral Jewell told King Edward how much he appreciated the compilment. The King chatted with each member of the party, showed them the palace pictures and ended the most cordial, informal party by saying how he was always pleased to see American war vessels in England.

We certainly cut a dash in our plug hat and polka-dot tie, that we got from B lly Jacobs.

If there was a horse or a pony or anything like that, we were entirely innocent of it, for it was up to us to see the creme de chenes and things.

And we think that there was never a prettier bunch of girls gathered together in one place before or after.

We forgot all about that nag of ourn, that came from the pasture, down on the B l's farm.

It aint necessiry for us to go to the Horse Show, to get blue ribbons, for Mr. Palst is a friend of ourn, and Eugene Blottner looks after the blue ribbons.

Biottner looks after the blue ribbons.

Teke Bill Hatter with a pair of polkadot so way on, for instrom.

The last time we saw Bill, he was doing hot stuff with the Bijou Company, and was singing. The Best in the House is None Too Good for Reilly."

He made a hit, and it was us, with a bunch of others, who helpe' to bring Billy back for several encores.

Bill has an important part in the isabes." for he it is who makes the toys, and there couldn't be a better.

We love Bill for the pleasure he has given us, and we hope when these few lines meet the eyes of flughcy Cardozo, he will go up to the Aragon Cafe before ten o'clock and fix things up.

Dick Little is not so small.
He fills much space on the map of Uncle Sam's territory, as Mr. Rowland can testify.
Dick entertained us over on Broadway and at the Half Way Home on Thirty-lifth Street.
We shall never forget Dick and the Shop Girl, and therefore we say that he is not so little, after all.
